

University of Maryland Observatory presents

New Telescope Owner Nights 2007

- Is that new telescope you got for Christmas still in the box??
- Have you used it a couple of times and quit in frustration??
- Telescope working fine, but you're tired of looking at the Moon and Saturn and wonder where to go to next??

No matter which category you fit into,
we can help!

What: An evening of assistance with your new (or not so new!) telescope from Observatory volunteers and staff

Where: University of Maryland Observatory, located on Metzerott Rd between University Blvd and Adelphi, across the street from the University System of Maryland office building.

When: Wednesday 24 January 6:00 - 9:00pm and Saturday 27 January 6:00 - 9:00pm

Admission: FREE! But please call Elizabeth Warner at 301-405-6555 to let us know you are coming, the type and size telescope you have, and what kind of help you need. This will help us to better meet your needs.

For more information, check out our website at <http://www.astro.umd.edu/openhouse/> or contact Elizabeth Warner (301-405-6555, ewarner@umd.edu).